

Instructor or Assistant Professor of Music/Director of Chorale Music Program

ANDREW COLLEGE, a small two-year residential college related to The United Methodist Church, invites applications for a full-time position for Instructor or Assistant Professor of Music/Director of Chorale Music Program. Appointment begins August 2009.

Primary responsibilities include: teaching 1000, 2000 level music classes including voice, theory, and appreciation, conducting the choral group “Andrew College Choraliers” and recruiting for the music department. Candidates that also have the ability to teach instrumentation are encouraged, but it is not required for the position. Keyboarding skills, however, are a must for rehearsals with the choir.

The ideal candidate will have an earned doctorate in Music with concentrations in Chorale Conducting, Voice or closely related fields. A master’s degree and 18 semester hours in these areas will be considered.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, unofficial transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to:
