Andrew College announces staff changes to alumni and development team

CUTHBERT, GA. – Andrew College has asked Mary Jane Langford Salter, a familiar Randolph County native, to help with its development and alumni relations initiatives. Mary Jane is a 1968 Andrew College graduate. She went on to graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Education degree from the University of Georgia in 1970 and taught school for a few years in both the public and private school systems. She later spent 14 years working with U.S. Senator Sam Nunn in both Washington, D.C. as a legislative assistant and in Georgia as the district director for the Southeast Georgia office. Six years ago she retired from the Georgia Department of Family and Children Services after over 20 years as a social worker, consultant and county director. She has been active with the Andrew Alumni Association for several years, serving as president for the past three years.

Mary Jane will be serving as the Special Assistant to the President for Development. Initially, her primary focus will be to identify the whereabouts of alumni and establish an ongoing communication with them, keeping them informed and soliciting their support. She will also be strengthening the bond between Andrew College with the community and Southwest Georgia.

Mary Jane has three adult daughters and five grandchildren.

The other change in the Development Office has been the promotion of Courtney Milliron. She will now be serving as the Coordinator of Development. Courtney will be the contact person for all foundation work/annual appeals as well as participate in the Alumni Task Force.

A native of Randolph County, Courtney graduated from Andrew College in 2010 with an Associate of Science degree. She received her Bachelor of Science in Education degree with a concentration in exercise science/wellness from Georgia Southwestern State University in 2013. Her career at Andrew College began as an administrative assistant in the Development Office in April, 2014.

Linda Buchanan, president of Andrew College said, “We are fortunate to have two such dedicated Andrew College alumni in our development office. They both bring different talents and expertise to the table and will be making a concerted effort to identify and communicate with our alumni and the community.”
